

Lecturer Position: Department of Marine Science

Coastal Carolina University invites applications for a Lecturer position in the Department of Marine Science. This position is a nine-month appointment with benefits and will begin August 2014. The Department of Marine Science is committed to collaborative, interdisciplinary education and research and seeks a highly motivated individual with a commitment to undergraduate teaching.

Applicants must have a M.S. or Ph.D. in Marine Science or a related marine field. The lecturer position may teach introductory marine science laboratory courses and may assist with the coordination of those courses and supervision of graduate teaching assistants. Additional teaching responsibilities may include a combination of introductory lectures and upper level laboratories in the marine science core. Preference will be given to applicants qualified to teach introductory and upper level marine biology or marine geology courses and laboratories. Further information about Coastal Carolina University and Marine Science can be found at <http://jobs.coastal.edu/marine>. Prior experience with distance learning (including laboratory) would be beneficial.

Coastal Carolina University is a public comprehensive liberal arts institution located just nine miles from the Atlantic coast resort of Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. Coastal enrolls more than 9,400 students from 45 states and 56 nations. The University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award the baccalaureate and selective master's degrees of national and/or regional significance in the arts and sciences, business, humanities, education, and health and human services and a Ph.D. degree in Marine Science.

Candidates should submit a letter of application, a current CV, unofficial transcript, and a statement of teaching philosophy electronically at: <http://jobs.coastal.edu>. Review of applications will begin December 18, 2013 and will continue until the position is filled.

Coastal Carolina University is an EO/AA employer.